As a professional makeup artist, Angela sometimes worked in a studio and often with photographers. Seeing their photos piqued her interest in photography. She then began her photography journey by taking up courses at The Photographic Society of Singapore (PSS) in 2019.

During the pandemic, Angela started looking for local scenery and street scenes in Singapore to shoot. She developed a passion for shooting landscapes and street photography and has since participated in numerous photography competitions.

In a few short years, Angela has won multiple awards and recognitions. She has also been invited to share her photography experiences on many online workshops via Zoom.

In 2022, Angela was part of a team from PSS who photographed the winners of The President's Volunteerism & Philanthropy Awards, and her photos were exhibited at The Istana.

Angela's photos have been exhibited in Singapore, the Kuala Lumpur Photography Festival and the Pingyao International Photography Festival, one of the largest photography festivals in the world.

Her photographs were also showcased in The Magic of Black & White Exhibition in 2023.
