

Gin Tay

Gin is a hobbyist photographer who started her photography journey 10 years ago after she bought her first Canon DSLR. She pursues photography during her free time as she finds it relaxing when taking a break from her busy work schedule. It is fun and she enjoys the whole process of photography.

Gin loves visiting nice places and taking photos to preserve moments before they disappear from her memory. Taking photos is a great way for her to express her creativity and capture the special moments or events in her life. Her favourite photography genres are Landscapes, Festivals, Macro & Black & White Fine Art Architecture.

She credits her Mentor Andrew JK Tan for his great mentorship throughout her photography journey since the day she started. Through his guidance, Gin learnt to understand the different genres in photography. She learnt to be more patient, to have flexibility and also self-confidence.

As she embarked on her journey into Black & White Fine Art Architecture photography, Jeffrey Wong, her B&W Mentor had always been willing to guide her in terms of discovering contrast & tones in black & white. She also learnt how to explore a building, to look out for unique perspectives, good lighting, shapes & patterns.

She was interviewed and featured on Canon's social media to shed light on her experience as a female photographer and how photography empowers her.

Gin was also part of the team from The Photographic Society of Singapore (PSS) who represented Singapore and won the Gold Medal in the 35th FIAP Black and White Biennial 2022 in Oman, with their collection of Black & White Fine Art Architecture photographs called "Concrete Wonders". Her photos have been showcased in The Magic of Black & White Exhibition and also in the Kuala Lumpur Photography Festival in 2023.
